...For Such A Time As This...

Graduation 2008

TO THE WCU STUDENTS OF 2007-2008:

The completion of another academic year provides us with an opportunity for reflection...and projection. The Senior Class of 2008 has witnessed many changes at your alma mater: the devastation of Hurricane Katrina, the death of a beloved president, the transition from college to university, the opening of the first new dorms in over forty years, expansion and improvement of other facilities, ground breaking for a new campus on the Gulf Coast, increased academic standards, achievements by students and faculty, and the establishment of a school of osteopathic medicine. All of these achievements enhance the value of your diploma and increase the prestige of the education which you received here.

The trustees, administration, faculty and staff have worked to make the university's mission statement a reality: to provide quality academic programs within a caring Christian community. We have sought to nurture and support you in your quest for an education and we take great pride in your achievements. We wish you well as you pursue further education, a career or a life of ministry.

For students who continue your educational pursuits at Carey; we commit to you that we will work hard to continue to encourage, challenge, and support you as you strive for your personal best. We will not seek to become like other institutions but will continue to emphasize William Carey University's uniqueness. Our mission statement, and the words of our namesake: "Expect great things from God; attempt great things for God" will continue to guide our efforts.

Colophon

This 534 volume of The Crusader was designed using Adobe InDesign CS2 on an Apple iMac G5 with a Intel Core Duo processor running at 1.83 GHz. Files were stored on a Western Digital My Book Studio Edition external hard drive, connected using firewire. The print run was 300 copies, on 157 GSM paper, using a Mitsubishi 8-color printing press. The cover is pewter ink and matte lamination over 4.0 mm board. The binding is a Smythe-sewn square binding, with head-and-tail bands. The jacket is 157 matte art with silver foil imprinting.
